

A close-up photograph of a Tasmanian Devil, a black marsupial with a white patch on its chest, yawning widely. Its mouth is open, revealing its sharp teeth and pink tongue. The background is a blurred, natural outdoor setting with dry leaves and twigs.

TASMANIAN DEVILS

By Robbie

Description

- THEY HAVE BLACK FUR, WHITE STRIPES, ON THEIR NECK AND HAVE WHITE SPOTS.
- TASMANIAN DEVILS ARE 20-31 INCHES.
- ADULT TASMANIAN DEVILS CAN WEIGH UP TO 26 POUNDS.

Habitat

- They live in the island of Tasmania.
- Tasmanian devils live in forests, dense bushes grasslands, coastal areas and mountains.

Food

- Tasmanian devils eat snakes, birds, rodents, lizards, fish and small mammals.
  - They can eat up to half of what they weigh.
  - Tasmanian devils are the world's largest carnivorous marsupial.
-
- A black Tasmanian devil with a white chest patch is standing in a forest. The animal is looking towards the camera. The background consists of a tree trunk, dry leaves, and some green plants.

- Tasmanians devils babies are born in April.
- Male tasmanian devils guard pregnant females.
- Tasmanian devils live 7 years.

FUN FACTS

- They have no other predators.
  - Tasmanian devils have awesome claws that help climb trees.
  - Tasmanian devils mostly see in black and white.
-
- The image shows two Tasmanian devils sitting on a dirt ground. The devil on the left is looking upwards and to the right, while the one on the right is looking towards the camera. They are both black with a white patch on their chests. The background consists of a stone wall, some driftwood, and a white tarp.